HISTORY OF SCIENCE HOTSPOTS COMPETITION

The BSHS is inviting pupils from across the UK to tell us about a local place that they think is important to the history of science.

Perhaps a famous scientist lived or worked in your local area, or an important discovery was made just around the corner. Is there a site of industrial importance or a famous institution right on your doorstep?

If so, tell us all about it!

Please send your HotSpot travel guides to schoolscompetition@bsbs.org.uk. Deadline for entries is 31st December 2011. Cash prizes.
